1. Informations About Cookies

1.1 What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small text file, usually made up of letters and digits, which a website stores on your device (computer, smartphone, tablet etc), containing information about that website, your navigation on and interaction with that website etc.

1.2 Why are cookies necessary?

Cookies are necessary in order to facilitate the navigation and usage of a certain website and are not hurting your device in any way.

This policy uses the generic term “cookie” because cookies are the main method in which the <https://self-xdsd.com> website stores information on your device. However, the Local Storage of your browser may also be used with the same purpose (storing information).

1.3 What are the cookies used on this website?

Cookies are an essential piece in the functioning of our website and the main purpose of them is making your navigation and use of our website a more pleasant experience.

For example, we use cookies to remember your session on the website, remember the language you’re using and the country you’re in. For example, this information is essential to us, when we are trying to estimate the number of users who are visiting our website, in order to know how to scale the website properly.

We may also use cookies with marketing and publicity purposes. Cookies help us store information such as your likes and interests, so we can show you ads which are relevant to you.

1.4 Which cookies we are NOT using on this website?

We are NOT using cookies to store sensitive information such as your address, password, credit or debit card details etc.

1.5 Who is using the information stored in cookies?

Information stored in cookies installed by our website are used strictly by us, with the exception of “third party cookies”, which are installed, used and processed by some of our partners, in order to provide certain functionalities of our website.

The main services where “third party cookies” are used is the obtaining of statistics for topics such as user access, navigation, bounce rate etc. Third party cookies may also be used by our Payment Processor partner (Stripe: <https://stripe.com>), who scans the website, its usage and navigation statistics in order to try to prevent fraud.

1.6 How can I avoid the usage of cookies on this website?

You can modify your Cookie Settings anytime, either by using the popup window which appears on the left-down side of the screen when you first open the website, or by clicking on the “Cookie Settings” link present in the footer of the website.

You may also manage, edit or remove certain cookies from your browser’s settings. Please follow the link for the browser you are using:
